Policy Statements

General Matters

It is the responsibility of the County's Chief Administrative Officer (CAO), to ensure that the County's management and employees are aware of this Policy.

Any administrative procedures, processes, or forms required to support this Policy are the responsibility of the County's administration as delegated by the CAO.

The County recognizes and supports social media as an important tool for promotion and engagement with its employees, contractors, stakeholders and citizen's while keeping the privacy of County business as the highest priority.

Use of Social Media – Differentiating Personal and County Social Media Accounts

The following principles apply to professional use of social media on behalf of the County, as well as the personal use of social media when referencing the County.

- County employees are expected to keep their personal social media accounts separate from County accounts.
- Personal content or Personal Information on County accounts is not permitted.
- Employees must know and adhere to the County's policies and administrative procedures and processes when using social media in reference to the County.
- Employees should be aware of the effect their actions may have on their own image, as well as the image of the County, as the information posted or published may be public information for an extended period of time
- Employees should be aware that the organization may see content and information made public by employees through social media. Employees should use their best judgement in ensuring they are not posting material that is inappropriate or harmful to the County, its employees, and other stakeholders.
- Although not an exhaustive list, some specific examples of prohibited social media conduct include posting commentary, content, or images that are defamatory, pornographic, proprietary, harassing, libelous, or that could create a hostile working environment.
- Employees are not to publish, post, or release any information that is considered confidential. If there are questions about what is considered confidential, employees should refer these inquiries to their supervisor or CAO or their designate.
- If employees encounter a situation while using social media that threatens to become antagonistic, employees should disengage from the dialogue politely and advise their supervisor.
- Employees should get appropriate permission before referring to or posting images of current or former employees, or other stakeholders. Additionally, employees require permission to use a
